Subject: Notification of Facilities Located within Wellhead Protection Areas

Dear Ms. Dunn:

The City of Spokane Water Department and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board (SAJB) of Spokane County water providers have recently completed the technical phases of their wellhead protection programs. During this first phase, these two entities compiled a database of potential Spokane Aquifer contaminant sources using numerous regulatory agency databases and surveys. Your agency is being notified that we used information from your database system(s) to assist in the compilation of our database. As required by the wellhead protection program, facilities/business from these databases, that were found to be within the potential wellhead protection areas, were sent letters of notification and information about the program. A sample letter and its enclosures are attached.

U.S. EPA Region 10 databases used were: Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Information System (CERCLIS) (Codes: CER3RG, CER8WA, CERCAP, CERPLR, CERPLS), Corrective Action Database (Code: CORACT), EPCRA-Hazardous Site Listing (Code: EPAHIL), Resource Conservation and Recovery Information System (RCRIS) (Code: RCRA), EPCRA-Toxic Chemical Release Reporting (Code: TRISUM), EPCRA-Hazardous Chemical Inventory (Code: TT_95), and Washington Facilities Index System (Code: WAFINDS). A listing of all facilities/businesses that were notified is attached. Any information received from the facilities/businesses notified that is pertinent to your database will be forwarded to you.

The City of Spokane and the SAJB would like thank you for the information you supplied for their programs. If you have any questions, please call me at 747-2000, extension 215.

Sincerely,

CH2M HILL

Re: Spokane Area Wellhead Protection Program

The City of Spokane and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board of Spokane County Water Purveyors have joined together to protect our drinking water supply through a Wellhead Protection Program. The Rathdrum Prairie/Spokane Valley Aquifer is the sole source of drinking water for more than 400,000 people. Protecting our water supply from contamination is important for the public health and economic vitality of this region

Based on information from local, state, or federal data sources, we have determined that _____ has a potential to harm groundwater quality should the critical materials associated with your facility be released into the environment. This letter provides information about the Wellhead Protection Program and serves notification that _____ is located within a wellhead protection area associated with one or more public water supply wells. In a wellhead protection area, any contaminant released on or under the ground is expected to eventually reach a public water supply well.

It is important that you read the attached information and consider participating in the development of the wellhead protection program to help prevent contamination of our drinking water.

Should you have any questions concerning this letter, or questions about the program, please contact:

Gail Nelson, Vera Water and Power	(509) 924-3800

SPOKANE AREA WELLHEAD PROTECTION PROGRAM

Fact Sheet and Focus Group Response Form

Washington State requires a groundwater protection and local wellhead protection program to include, at a minimum, the following elements:

 A delineated wellhead protection area for each well, wellfield, or spring

 An inventory of all potential sources of groundwater contamination within the wellhead protection area

 A management plan to reduce the likelihood that potential contamination sources will pollute the drinking water supply

 Contingency plans for providing alternate sources of drinking water in the event that a contaminant is released or contamination does occur

 Public participation while the program is developing

Are you interested in being involved with a special focus group convened to discuss any of the following issues that pose potential threats to our drinking water? Your knowledge and understanding of these issues will help determine future action plans. If so, check all that apply.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

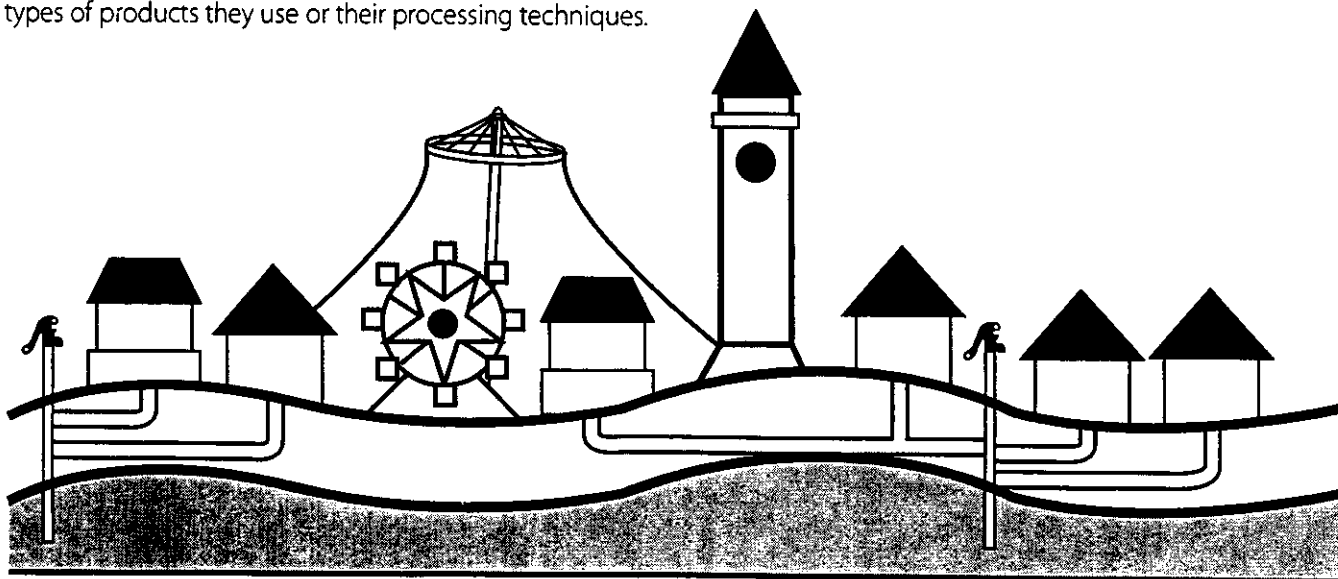

*for Businesses and Industries located
over the Spokane Valley Aquifer
in Wellhead Protection Areas*

Water purveyors in the Spokane area are working together to implement a practical, proactive and protective program for your drinking water. The Federal Safe Drinking Water Act requires that all public water systems using groundwater as their source of drinking water implement a wellhead protection program. The goal of the program is to prevent contamination of our only drinking water source, the Spokane Aquifer.

A wellhead protection area is an area where a contaminant released on or under the ground is expected to reach one of our public water supply wells. Your local water purveyors have defined potential wellhead protection areas. Some businesses within these wellhead protection areas have a potential to contaminate the drinking water because of the types of products they use or their processing techniques.

In Washington State, both pollution prevention techniques and management strategies are recommended to protect the aquifer. We will need stakeholders ideas and public input to define these strategies.

Beginning this spring, the City of Spokane and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board (SAJB) will establish committees, conduct public focus groups, and hold meetings to provide information about groundwater protection issues and invite participation from citizens and businesses about appropriate protection measures. The intent of these activities is to develop a wellhead protection program that will protect your drinking water supply system now and into the future. Please see the enclosed fact sheet for more information.

Subject: Notification of Facilities Located within Wellhead Protection Areas

Dear Mr. Miller:

The City of Spokane Water Department and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board (SAJB) of Spokane County water providers have recently completed the technical phases of their wellhead protection programs. During this first phase, these two entities compiled a database of potential Spokane Aquifer contaminant sources using numerous regulatory agency databases and surveys. Your agency is being notified that we used information from your database system(s) to assist in the compilation of our database. As required by the wellhead protection program, facilities/business from these databases, that were found to be within the potential wellhead protection areas, were sent letters of notification and information about the program. A sample letter and its enclosures are attached.

The Spokane County Engineers database used was: Critical Materials Users (Code: CMU). A listing of all facilities/businesses that were notified is attached. Any information received from the facilities/businesses notified that is pertinent to your database will be forwarded to you.

The City of Spokane and the SAJB would like thank you for the information you supplied for their programs. If you have any questions, please call me at 747-2000, extension 215.

Sincerely,

CH2M HILL

Sharon O'Shaughnessy

Re: Spokane Area Wellhead Protection Program

The City of Spokane and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board of Spokane County Water Purveyors have joined together to protect our drinking water supply through a Wellhead Protection Program. The Rathdrum Prairie/Spokane Valley Aquifer is the sole source of drinking water for more than 400,000 people. Protecting our water supply from contamination is important for the public health and economic vitality of this region

Based on information from local, state, or federal data sources, we have determined that _____ has a potential to harm groundwater quality should the critical materials associated with your facility be released into the environment. This letter provides information about the Wellhead Protection Program and serves notification that _____ is located within a wellhead protection area associated with one or more public water supply wells. In a wellhead protection area, any contaminant released on or under the ground is expected to eventually reach a public water supply well.

It is important that you read the attached information and consider participating in the development of the wellhead protection program to help prevent contamination of our drinking water.

Should you have any questions concerning this letter, or questions about the program, please contact:

Fact Sheet and Focus Group Response Form

Washington State requires a groundwater protection and local wellhead protection program to include, at a minimum, the following elements:

-  A delineated wellhead protection area for each well, wellfield, or spring
-  An inventory of all potential sources of groundwater contamination within the wellhead protection area
-  A management plan to reduce the likelihood that potential contamination sources will pollute the drinking water supply
-  Contingency plans for providing alternate sources of drinking water in the event that a contaminant is released or contamination does occur
-  Public participation while the program is developing

Are you interested in being involved with a special focus group convened to discuss any of the following issues that pose potential threats to our drinking water? Your knowledge and understanding of these issues will help determine future action plans. If so, check all that apply.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

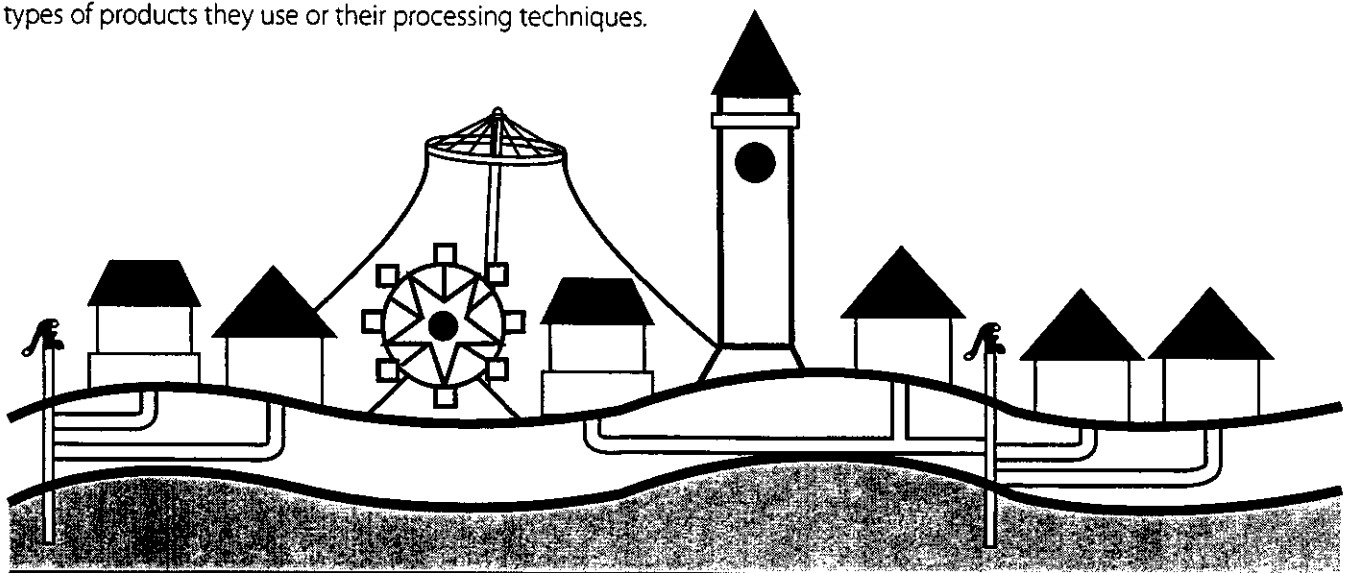

*for Businesses and Industries located
over the Spokane Valley Aquifer
in Wellhead Protection Areas*

Water purveyors in the Spokane area are working together to implement a practical, proactive and protective program for your drinking water. The Federal Safe Drinking Water Act requires that all public water systems using groundwater as their source of drinking water implement a wellhead protection program. The goal of the program is to prevent contamination of our only drinking water source, the Spokane Aquifer.

A wellhead protection area is an area where a contaminant released on or under the ground is expected to reach one of our public water supply wells. Your local water purveyors have defined potential wellhead protection areas. Some businesses within these wellhead protection areas have a potential to contaminate the drinking water because of the types of products they use or their processing techniques.

In Washington State, both pollution prevention techniques and management strategies are recommended to protect the aquifer. We will need stakeholders ideas and public input to define these strategies.

Beginning this spring, the City of Spokane and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board (SAJB) will establish committees, conduct public focus groups, and hold meetings to provide information about groundwater protection issues and invite participation from citizens and businesses about appropriate protection measures. The intent of these activities is to develop a wellhead protection program that will protect your drinking water supply system now and into the future. Please see the enclosed fact sheet for more information.

Subject: Notification of Facilities Located within Wellhead Protection Areas

Dear Mr. Schultz:

The City of Spokane Water Department and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board (SAJB) of Spokane County water providers have recently completed the technical phases of their wellhead protection programs. During this first phase, these two entities compiled a database of potential Spokane Aquifer contaminant sources using numerous regulatory agency databases and surveys. Your agency is being notified that we used information from your database system(s) to assist in the compilation of our database. As required by the wellhead protection program, facilities/business from these databases, that were found to be within the potential wellhead protection areas, were sent letters of notification and information about the program. A sample letter and its enclosures are attached.

Washington State Department of Agriculture databases used were: WSDA-Agencies (Code: AGENCY), WSDA Commercial Applicators (Code: COMAPP), and WSDA-Private Applicators (Code: PVTAPP). A listing of all facilities/businesses that were notified is attached. Any information received from the facilities/businesses notified that is pertinent to your database will be forwarded to you.

Fact Sheet and Focus Group Response Form

Washington State requires a groundwater protection and local wellhead protection program to include, at a minimum, the following elements:

-  A delineated wellhead protection area for each well, wellfield, or spring
-  An inventory of all potential sources of groundwater contamination within the wellhead protection area
-  A management plan to reduce the likelihood that potential contamination sources will pollute the drinking water supply
-  Contingency plans for providing alternate sources of drinking water in the event that a contaminant is released or contamination does occur
-  Public participation while the program is developing

Are you interested in being involved with a special focus group convened to discuss any of the following issues that pose potential threats to our drinking water? Your knowledge and understanding of these issues will help determine future action plans. If so, check all that apply.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

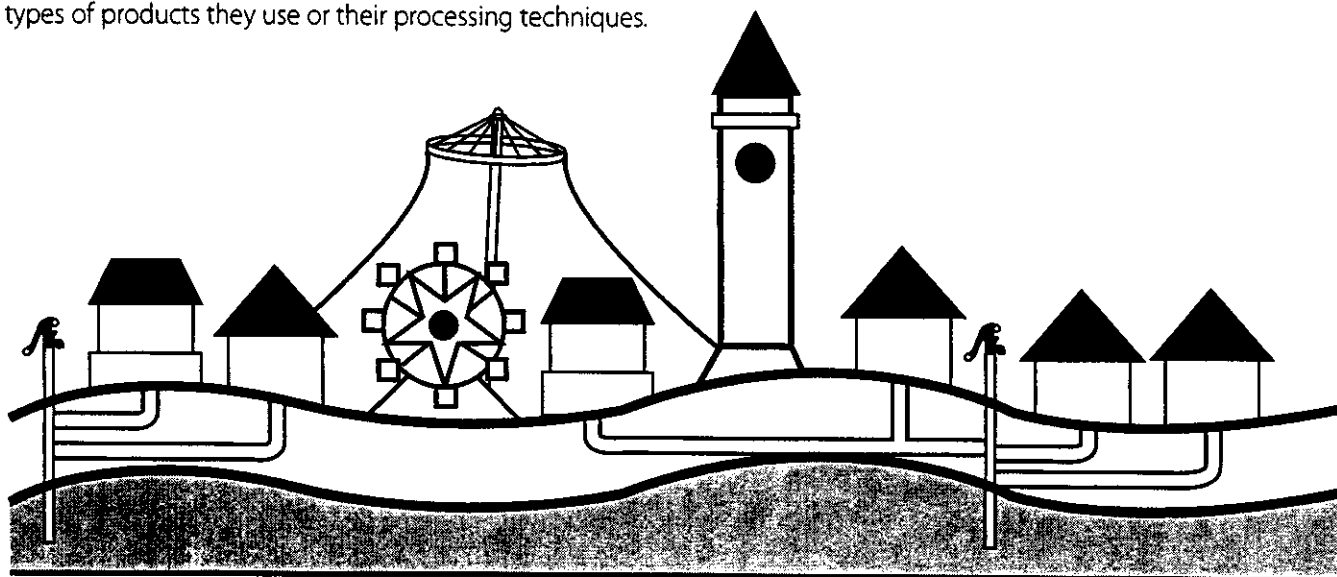

*for Businesses and Industries located
over the Spokane Valley Aquifer
in Wellhead Protection Areas*

Water purveyors in the Spokane area are working together to implement a practical, proactive and protective program for your drinking water. The Federal Safe Drinking Water Act requires that all public water systems using groundwater as their source of drinking water implement a wellhead protection program. The goal of the program is to prevent contamination of our only drinking water source, the Spokane Aquifer.

A wellhead protection area is an area where a contaminant released on or under the ground is expected to reach one of our public water supply wells. Your local water purveyors have defined potential wellhead protection areas. Some businesses within these wellhead protection areas have a potential to contaminate the drinking water because of the types of products they use or their processing techniques.

In Washington State, both pollution prevention techniques and management strategies are recommended to protect the aquifer. We will need stakeholders ideas and public input to define these strategies.

Beginning this spring, the City of Spokane and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board (SAJB) will establish committees, conduct public focus groups, and hold meetings to provide information about groundwater protection issues and invite participation from citizens and businesses about appropriate protection measures. The intent of these activities is to develop a wellhead protection program that will protect your drinking water supply system now and into the future. Please see the enclosed fact sheet for more information.

Subject: Notification of Facilities Located within Wellhead Protection Areas

Dear Mr. Windsor:

The City of Spokane Water Department and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board (SAJB) of Spokane County water providers have recently completed the technical phases of their wellhead protection programs. During this first phase, these two entities compiled a database of potential Spokane Aquifer contaminant sources using numerous regulatory agency databases and surveys. Your agency is being notified that we used information from your database system(s) to assist in the compilation of our database. As required by the wellhead protection program, facilities/business from these databases, that were found to be within the potential wellhead protection areas, were sent letters of notification and information about the program. A sample letter and its enclosures are attached.

The City of Spokane Solid Waste Management database used was: Drycleaner Survey (Code: DRYCLN). A listing of all facilities/businesses that were notified is attached. Any information received from the facilities/businesses notified that is pertinent to your database will be forwarded to you.

The City of Spokane and the SAJB would like thank you for the information you supplied for their programs. If you have any questions, please call me at 747-2000, extension 215.

over the Spokane Valley Aquifer
in Wellhead Protection Areas*

Water purveyors in the Spokane area are working together to implement a practical, proactive and protective program for your drinking water. The Federal Safe Drinking Water Act requires that all public water systems using groundwater as their source of drinking water implement a wellhead protection program. The goal of the program is to prevent contamination of our only drinking water source, the Spokane Aquifer.

A wellhead protection area is an area where a contaminant released on or under the ground is expected to reach one of our public water supply wells. Your local water purveyors have defined potential wellhead protection areas. Some businesses within these wellhead protection areas have a potential to contaminate the drinking water because of the types of products they use or their processing techniques.

In Washington State, both pollution prevention techniques and management strategies are recommended to protect the aquifer. We will need stakeholders ideas and public input to define these strategies.

Beginning this spring, the City of Spokane and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board (SAJB) will establish committees, conduct public focus groups, and hold meetings to provide information about groundwater protection issues and invite participation from citizens and businesses about appropriate protection measures. The intent of these activities is to develop a wellhead protection program that will protect your drinking water supply system now and into the future. Please see the enclosed fact sheet for more information.

Subject: Notification of Facilities Located within Wellhead Protection Areas

Dear Ms. Brydsen:

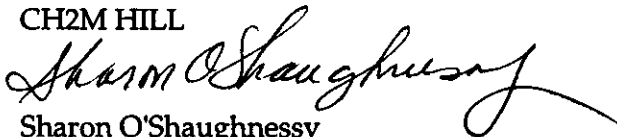

The City of Spokane Water Department and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board (SAJB) of Spokane County water providers have recently completed the technical phases of their wellhead protection programs. During this first phase, these two entities compiled a database of potential Spokane Aquifer contaminant sources using numerous regulatory agency databases and surveys. Your agency is being notified that we used information from your database system(s) to assist in the compilation of our database. As required by the wellhead protection program, facilities/business from these databases, that were found to be within the potential wellhead protection areas, were sent letters of notification and information about the program. A sample letter and its enclosures are attached.

Washington State Department of Ecology databases used were: Shopsweep Survey (Code: SHPSWP) and Snapshot Survey (Code: SNPSHT). A listing of all facilities/businesses that were notified is attached. Any information received from the facilities/businesses notified that is pertinent to your database will be forwarded to you.

The City of Spokane and the SAJB would like thank you for the information you supplied for their programs. If you have any questions, please call me at 747-2000, extension 215.

Sincerely,

CH2M HILL

Re: Spokane Area Wellhead Protection Program

The City of Spokane and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board of Spokane County Water Purveyors have joined together to protect our drinking water supply through a Wellhead Protection Program. The Rathdrum Prairie/Spokane Valley Aquifer is the sole source of drinking water for more than 400,000 people. Protecting our water supply from contamination is important for the public health and economic vitality of this region

Based on information from local, state, or federal data sources, we have determined that _____ has a potential to harm groundwater quality should the critical materials associated with your facility be released into the environment. This letter provides information about the Wellhead Protection Program and serves notification that _____ is located within a wellhead protection area associated with one or more public water supply wells. In a wellhead protection area, any contaminant released on or under the ground is expected to eventually reach a public water supply well.

It is important that you read the attached information and consider participating in the development of the wellhead protection program to help prevent contamination of our drinking water.

SPOKANE AREA WELLHEAD PROTECTION PROGRAM

Fact Sheet and Focus Group Response Form

Washington State requires a groundwater protection and local wellhead protection program to include, at a minimum, the following elements:

 A delineated wellhead protection area for each well, wellfield, or spring

 An inventory of all potential sources of groundwater contamination within the wellhead protection area

 A management plan to reduce the likelihood that potential contamination sources will pollute the drinking water supply

 Contingency plans for providing alternate sources of drinking water in the event that a contaminant is released or contamination does occur

 Public participation while the program is developing

Are you interested in being involved with a special focus group convened to discuss any of the following issues that pose potential threats to our drinking water? Your knowledge and understanding of these issues will help determine future action plans. If so, check all that apply.

Re: Spokane Area Wellhead Protection Program

The City of Spokane and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board of Spokane County Water Purveyors have joined together to protect our drinking water supply through a Wellhead Protection Program. The Rathdrum Prairie/Spokane Valley Aquifer is the sole source of drinking water for more than 400,000 people. Protecting our water supply from contamination is important for the public health and economic vitality of this region

Based on information from local, state, or federal data sources, we have determined that _____ has a potential to harm groundwater quality should the critical materials associated with your facility be released into the environment. This letter provides information about the Wellhead Protection Program and serves notification that _____ is located within a wellhead protection area associated with one or more public water supply wells. In a wellhead protection area, any contaminant released on or under the ground is expected to eventually reach a public water supply well.

It is important that you read the attached information and consider participating in the development of the wellhead protection program to help prevent contamination of our drinking water.

Should you have any questions concerning this letter, or questions about the program, please contact:

Fact Sheet and Focus Group Response Form

Washington State requires a groundwater protection and local wellhead protection program to include, at a minimum, the following elements:

-  A delineated wellhead protection area for each well, wellfield, or spring
-  An inventory of all potential sources of groundwater contamination within the wellhead protection area
-  A management plan to reduce the likelihood that potential contamination sources will pollute the drinking water supply
-  Contingency plans for providing alternate sources of drinking water in the event that a contaminant is released or contamination does occur
-  Public participation while the program is developing

Are you interested in being involved with a special focus group convened to discuss any of the following issues that pose potential threats to our drinking water? Your knowledge and understanding of these issues will help determine future action plans. If so, check all that apply.

- | | |
|--|--|
| ☐ Underground storage tanks, fuel storage (includes discussion of secondary containment requirements) | ☐ Linkage between wellhead protection and aquifer protection strategies |
| ☐ Petroleum pipelines, transportation corridors (including highways and railroads) | ☐ Public education |
| ☐ Regulated substances, chemical handling and storage | ☐ Land use changes within a wellhead protection area or in recharge areas within the aquifer boundary |
| ☐ Wellhead protection program funding options | ☐ Facility relocation and relocation incentives, property transfers |
| ☐ Surface water regulations and wastewater requirements | ☐ Groundwater monitoring |
| ☐ Fertilizer and pesticide use and handling, general agricultural practices | ☐ Applicability of current aquifer protection-related ordinances |
| ☐ Hazardous material spill response | ☐ Land use changes for drainage basins draining to the aquifer |
| ☐ Zoning tools such as Groundwater Protection Overlay Districts | ☐ Implementation strategies and enforcement |
| | ☐ Expanding wellhead protection areas to include the entire aquifer |

If you desire to participate, please complete this form, fold, and return to the address provided on the back or fax to (509) 623-1622.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

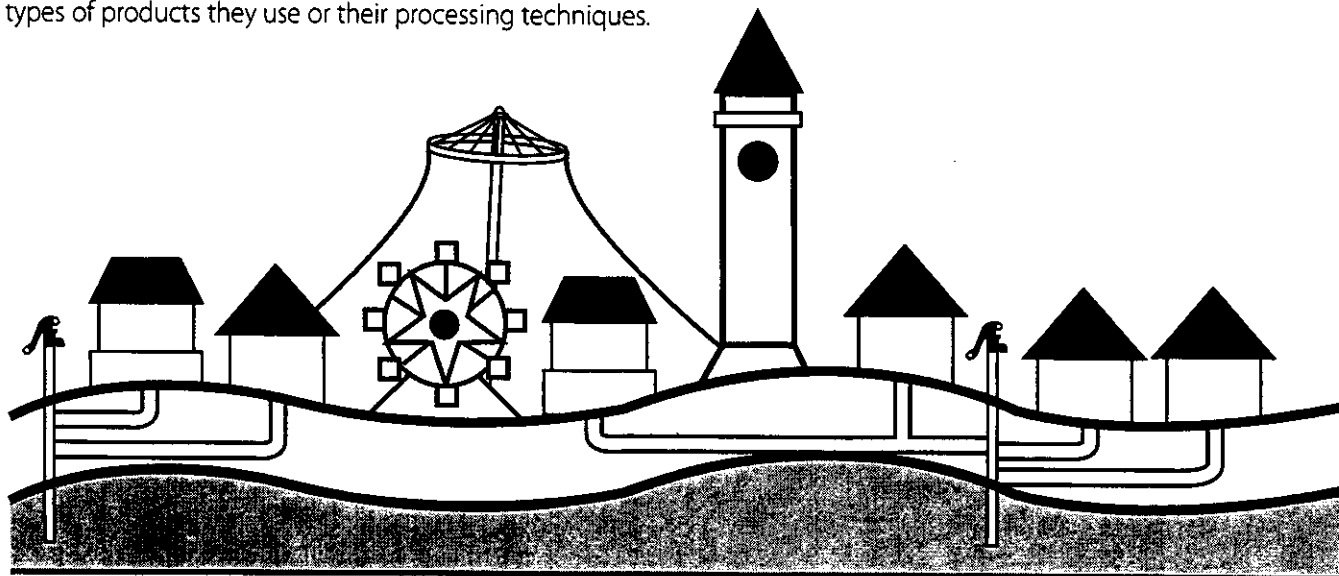

*for Businesses and Industries located
over the Spokane Valley Aquifer
in Wellhead Protection Areas*

Water purveyors in the Spokane area are working together to implement a practical, proactive and protective program for your drinking water. The Federal Safe Drinking Water Act requires that all public water systems using groundwater as their source of drinking water implement a wellhead protection program. The goal of the program is to prevent contamination of our only drinking water source, the Spokane Aquifer.

A wellhead protection area is an area where a contaminant released on or under the ground is expected to reach one of our public water supply wells. Your local water purveyors have defined potential wellhead protection areas. Some businesses within these wellhead protection areas have a potential to contaminate the drinking water because of the types of products they use or their processing techniques.

In Washington State, both pollution prevention techniques and management strategies are recommended to protect the aquifer. We will need stakeholders ideas and public input to define these strategies.

Beginning this spring, the City of Spokane and the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board (SAJB) will establish committees, conduct public focus groups, and hold meetings to provide information about groundwater protection issues and invite participation from citizens and businesses about appropriate protection measures. The intent of these activities is to develop a wellhead protection program that will protect your drinking water supply system now and into the future. Please see the enclosed fact sheet for more information.

Subject: Notification of Facilities Located within a Delineated Aquifer Sensitive Area

Dear Mr. Miller:

Due to an agreement with the Washington State Department of Health, the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board (SAJB) has sent a second notification to businesses/facilities within a special delineated aquifer sensitive area to completed the contaminant source inventory notification process for their wellhead protection program. The database used for the original notifications was also used for this one. Your agency is being notified that we used information from your database system(s), and as required by the wellhead protection program, facilities/businesses from these databases, that were found to be within the special wellhead protection area, were sent letters of notification. A sample letter is attached.

The Spokane County Engineers database used was: Critical Materials Users (Code: CMU). A listing of all facilities/businesses that were notified is attached. Any information received from the facilities/businesses notified that is pertinent to your database will be forwarded to you.

The SAJB would like thank you for the information you supplied for their program. If you have any questions, please call me at 747-2000, extension 215.

Sincerely,

CH2M HILL

Subject: Notification of Facilities Located within a Delineated Aquifer Sensitive Area

Dear Mr. Hendron:

Due to an agreement with the Washington State Department of Health, the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board (SAJB) has sent a second notification to businesses/facilities within a special delineated aquifer sensitive area to completed the contaminant source inventory notification process for their wellhead protection program. The database used for the original notifications was also used for this one. Your agency is being notified that we used information from your database system(s), and as required by the wellhead protection program, facilities/businesses from these databases, that were found to be within the special wellhead protection area, were sent letters of notification. A sample letter is attached.

The City of Spokane database used was: Hazardous Materials List (Code: CAMEO). A listing of all facilities/businesses that were notified is attached. Any information received from the facilities/businesses notified that is pertinent to your database will be forwarded to you.

The SAJB would like thank you for the information you supplied for their program. If you have any questions, please call me at 747-2000, extension 215.

Sincerely,

CH2M HILL

Subject: Notification of Facilities Located within a Delineated Aquifer Sensitive Area

Dear Ms. Goldstein:

Due to an agreement with the Washington State Department of Health, the Spokane Aquifer Joint Board (SAJB) has sent a second notification to businesses/facilities within a special delineated aquifer sensitive area to completed the contaminant source inventory notification process for their wellhead protection program. The database used for the original notifications was also used for this one. Your agency is being notified that we used information from your database system(s), and as required by the wellhead protection program, facilities/businesses from these databases, that were found to be within the special wellhead protection area, were sent letters of notification. A sample letter is attached.

Washington State Department of Ecology databases used were: ECOLOGY's Hazardous Sites List (Code: EHSL), Confirmed and Suspected Contaminated Sites Report (Code: ICSC), Leaking Underground Storage Tanks (Code: LUST), and Underground Storage Tanks (Code: UST). A listing of all facilities/businesses that were notified is attached. Any information received from the facilities/businesses notified that is pertinent to your database will be forwarded to you.

The SAJB would like thank you for the information you supplied for their program. If you have any questions, please call me at 747-2000, extension 215.

Sincerely,

CH2M HILL

Your agency is being notified that we used information from your database system(s), and as required by the wellhead protection program, facilities/businesses from these databases, that were found to be within the special wellhead protection area, were sent letters of notification. A sample letter is attached.

U.S. EPA Region 10 databases used were: Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Information System (CERCLIS)--(Codes: CER3RG, CER8WA, CERCAP, CERPLR, CERPLS), Corrective Action Database (Code: CORACT), EPCRA-Hazardous Site Listing (Code: EPAHIL), Resource Conservation and Recovery Information System (RCRIS) (Code: RCRA), EPCRA-Toxic Chemical Release Reporting (Code: TRISUM), EPCRA-Hazardous Chemical Inventory (Code: TT_95), and Washington Facilities Index System (Code: WAFINDS). A listing of all facilities/businesses that were notified is attached. Any information received from the facilities/businesses notified that is pertinent to your database will be forwarded to you.

The SAJB would like thank you for the information you supplied for their program. If you have any questions, please call me at 747-2000, extension 215.

Sincerely,

CH2M HILL
